

SCIGRIP expands European adhesives offering at Compotec and Seatec Shows

17th January 2013, Tyne and Wear, UK – SCIGRIP, the global leader in smart adhesive solutions, will be exhibiting at Compotec 2013 in Carrara Fiere, Italy from 6-8th February. The exhibition, held simultaneously with marine technology and design show Seatec, will see SCIGRIP showcasing the latest advancements in bonding systems and adhesive chemistries.

Now in full UK and US production, SCIGRIP's SG230 product will be a key focus. Already an established and market leading adhesive in the US marine sector, it is part of SCIGRIP's 10:1 Methacrylate range. Available in a variety of curing speeds, SG230 is ideally suited to marine, transportation, wind and other renewable energy applications.

Key benefits of the SG230 range:

- High build adhesive for large component assembly without slump or overheating
- Very high toughness for impact, peel and fatigue strength
- Dial-up speed control with unchanged final cold cured bond strengths to optimise productivity
- Moisture tolerant application for wet weather work

Paul Nelson, SCIGRIP's Business Development Director for Europe and Asia, will be available throughout the show in Hall D on Stand 845. Mastikol, SCIGRIP's exclusive Italian distributor, will also have representatives on hand to discuss the above product offerings in more detail.

-Ends-

Computec and Seatec 2012

Computec is the first exhibition in Italy entirely dedicated to research, production, making up and technologies of composite materials. It's a new and unique event in the Italian trade fair panorama: its target is to bring together universities, research institutes, industries, organizations and media in a three days event in order to present the composite technologies, processes and developments. The exhibition, at its fourth edition, has registered the presence of 125 exhibitors covering a surface of 5,000 sqmt.
